The power of Shiloh Software can be appreciated only when the user knows and understands how it is used. Our events are offered to enhance knowledge which in return will increase productivity and efficiency.

Study Hall

Need a little extra help on a report? Not sure how to start building a data set? The Study Hall sessions are by far our most popular method in assisting users become proficient in Shiloh. Students can schedule 1 or 2 hour blocks of time to discuss reports, data sets, alerts, or questions they may have that require a little extra help from our experts.

Criteria: Users must attend the Shiloh's class relative to their need to attend Study Hall. If a user has not worked in Shiloh for a month or more, we recommend they retake the respective course or take the 3-hour Shiloh Report Building Refresher. Study Hall is not to be used in lieu of any Shiloh class.

Registration: Due to the popularity of this class we highly advise students to contact our Training Department minimum 5-7 days in advance.

Students must pre-register. To better serve you, please send an example or details relating to what you want to work on during the study hall. This will ensure we have the appropriate people available.

NOTE: To get the most out of the Study Hall you will want the ability to access your data remotely or load your data to your computer using the Local Export utility in Data Loading.
